Program News

There will be no November meeting while we continue our time of social distancing.

UFO Challenge – Susan Congdon

We're nearing the end of this UFO challenge so I hope you've been successful in moving some projects closer to completion. I'm looking forward to some fantastic show & tell when we are able to meet again!

The number for November is "3".

Hello Autumn!

Our quilt show is happening! Thanks to the museum and the events director, Leah, who urged us to have a quilt show this year, we are making it happen. We have 48 quilts entered in this year's mini quilt show. We also will have our Community Outreach Quilts for all to enjoy.

Since the museum has revised their schedule of operation, our quilt show dates are now Wed. Nov. 4 through Sat. Nov 21. We will be taking down the quilts on that Saturday Nov. 21 instead of Sunday Nov. 23. You will be able to pick up your quilts on Sat Nov 21, from 11- 2 pm or on Monday Nov 23 from 11-2 pm.

Don't forget to set your clocks back! We have an extra hour to finish our UFO's and an extra hour to enjoy our cooler temperatures.

I love this time of year, but I miss Wisconsin with the best fall foliage. I just started reading Quilters of the Door by Ann Hazelwood. Her book is about quilters in Door County, Wisconsin, a place our family has visited for many years while we were living in Wisconsin. I highly recommend this book since it is an introduction to the wonderful area of the peninsula of Wisconsin. Happy reading and quilting!

See you at the show.

Barb
