Fall is in the air. I am sure we will still have warmer temps before the leaves fall. We were in Wisconsin for our annual trip to see friends and family. While I was there, I had the pleasure of going to a new quilt shop; Primitive Gatherings, owned and created by Lisa Bongean. The establishment has a large retreat center that houses 25 people. The center has everything a quilter needs for creating their pieced quilt. I am looking forward to a retreat at The Gatherings in 2023!!

Haven't been quilting since we have been back from vacation. Need to continue with my charming quilt before our quilt show, while I have the time. I still need to sew bindings on the other quilts, yes, before the show.

Hummingbird activity is happening at our house. They must be getting ready for their long journey because they are going through the food every week! Did you know that the only hummingbird that is in our area is the ruby throated hummer? They are only found east of the Mississippi River. The peak feeding season is late August to early October so keep those feeders full!

See you in September.

Connie Bright will be teaching a class on Painting on Canvas Totes.

A room has been reserved at St Paul Lutheran Church on Tuesdays, Oct 4, 11, 18 from 10am to 1pm. For those of you that have signed up for her classes, your tote bags need to be in Connie's possession by Sept 12.

HELP WANTED - QUILT SHOW COMMITTEE -- If you were at the July guild meeting, you are aware that Joyce Sinclair and her husband plan to move to Florida next year to be closer to family. Joyce serves on the committee as the person responsible for arranging and getting the quilts hung (we have young volunteers who do the work). She has years of experience and would like to train someone during this year's quilt show. It's a once-a-year obligation, Joyce has excellent notes and is willing to teach someone everything she's learned. As I've learned over this past year, this is a very welcoming committee, and all are willing to help. If you are interested in taking over for Joyce next year, please let her or Donna Holman know.

A big thanks for all your hard work this year! However, the year is not over yet. I will still be accepting donations for Welcome Baby, and toiletries for the fat quarter bags. If you did not get your inspiration fabric for the placemats, I will bring it to the meeting in September. If you need flannel for the batting of the placemats, let me know and I can bring it to the meeting. Also remember, I still have fabric, and batting available for outreach projects.

At our Sit and Sew in September there will be a tutorial on making some Christmas ornaments that would be great to sell in the store during the quilt show. I will give you more details at the meeting. If you would like to participate, please bring your sewing machine. If you would like to work on another project such as placemats, please feel free to do that instead. Look forward to seeing you at the meeting.

Finally, if you would like to contribute an item for the QSC door prize basket, please bring it to the next meeting.

More Welcome Baby donations!

2022 Quilt Show

Donna Holman

The theme for the 2022 quilt show is "Charming Quilts". We will have a special category for the charm pack guild challenge where you can enter the projects you made using charm squares. The quilt show will run November 1 - November 18. More details will follow with opportunities to volunteer.

The registration form and a list of categories are available on our website www.carolinapinequilters.org under the Quilt Show category - 2022 Quilt Show. All quilts must be pre-registered and registration must be received no later than September 22. A photo of your entry is REQUIRED. If you have problems printing a photo, please let me know.

To help offset the costs of the quilt show we will be selling items to the museum store for them to resell. They would like small items such as (but not limited to) small zip bags, drawstring bags (think our fat quarter bags), hot pads, button baskets, placemats (set of four), table runners, ornaments, soup bowl cozies, potholders, rice neck wraps, etc. Think pretty fabric, seasonal fabric (we'll be heading into Christmas) or Clemson/Carolina fabric. All items should be turned into Donna Holman who will work with the museum store. If you plan to donate, please let me know so I know how much to expect. To start they would like no more than ten of any one item. If you have any questions, please let me know.

QUILT SLEEVES ARE REQUIRED -- All bed quilts, lap quilts, and large wall hangings that are 68" and longer must have a 4-inch sleeve SEWN (not pinned) onto the back of the quilt for hanging. The registration form has been updated to reflect this clarification on which size quilts require sleeves.

SELLING YOUR QUILTS - If you enter a quilt in the show that you would like to sell it is totally your responsibility. There is a form on the CPQ website under the 2022 Quilt Show/Sales Form tab. Print out this form, fill it out (only half needed), and submit it with your entry. It will be hung on your quilt. If you are contacted by a potential buyer, it is your responsibility to arrange for payment and pickup with the buyer at the end of the show. If your quilt sells, it is your responsibility to remove the form or write SOLD on the form. Once you receive payment, you must give the museum 10% of the sales price.

VALUING YOUR QUILT - For the museum's insurance purposes, you're required to assign a Fair Market Value to your quilt. Some helpful information has been posted on the website under the Registration Form category.

VOLUNTEERS - Please check your calendars and sign up at the September/October quilt guild meetings for volunteer opportunities. Volunteers are needed on the following dates: October 23 & 24 - Quilt take in; October 26 - scribing; October 29 - hanging quilts; November 19 - quilt take down. Please volunteer for at least one of these opportunities. Sign-up sheets will be at the guild meetings. You can volunteer for as many hours as you'd like. MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK.

Meet our 2022 Quilt Show judge

Joyce Walton

Traditional & Contemporary Quilt Designer/ Teacher

Biography

Joyce is a graduate of Moore College of Art & Design in Philadelphia, PA with a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in illustration and design. She has been sewing and quilting for over 35 years, and has been teaching art and quilting classes for the past 14 years throughout the southeast. She enjoys creating her own quilt designs, and is inspired by nature, color and of course, fabric. She works in all quilt mediums, including machine and hand piecing, applique', painting on fabric, hand and machine quilting, and much more. She also has a special love for surface embellishment and hand embroidery.

Joyce has acquired many blue ribbon awards including "Best in Show" in the York County Quilt Show in 2008, Best Overall Color Award in 2012, and Best Overall Handwork Award at the Asheville Quilt Show in 2015. Her pieces have been proudly exhibited in gallery showings, including a private show at the Rock Hill Performance Center in October 2014, and an appliqué exhibit in May & June 2015. She was published as the Featured Fiber Artist in the December 2014 and August 2015 issues of York County Magazine and featured in Quilt Scene Magazine in October 2015 at the Houston International Quilt Festival. For the past three years ribbons were awarded for quilts in the York County Quilt Show, The Asheville Quilt Show, and several other southeastern quilt shows. She continues to show her quilts throughout North and South Carolina.
