Already the last meeting of the year! I'm looking forward to taking part in our holiday festivities with all of you. If you were not at the November meeting and want to bring a food item, please get in touch with Peggy Hazell.

Happy Thanksgiving!

President's Chatter

Pat Jones

On behalf of the CPQ board I want to extend a heartfelt thank you to this year's quilt show committee and staff of volunteers who invested so much time and effort into planning and staging our 2019 show. The Aiken County Historical Museum continues to serve as an inviting venue for display of the handcrafted quilts by our membership as well as other quilters in the broader Aiken County community.

As we transition from the bounty of Thanksgiving weekend into the Christmas season I want to personally extend my best wishes for a joyous holiday season to you and your families.

Carolina Pine Quilters 2019 Quilt Show

Viewer's Choice was Terri Jarrett's Diamentes de Desecho

Museum Choice had a tie between Gerry White's Call of the Wild and Cheryl Grainger's Sapphire

One of our members shared something she overheard while at the Aiken County Historical Museum viewing our recent quilt show. An Aiken resident who used to live in Tennessee was raving about the quilts to the staff at the front desk. She was blown away by the show and how the quilts compared to others she has seen. She was amazed at all the little details on the quilts as well as at how many unique and beautiful art and appliqué quilts there were. Congratulations to all!

CPQ – December Program / Holiday Party

Monday, December 9, 2019

- Don't miss our final meeting of the year on Monday, December 9. This grand finale to a terrific guild year will be an evening full of fun, festivities, food and fellowship!
- Highlights of the evening will be a holiday food table with finger foods of both sweet and savory treats. We will also have a gift exchange and it's not too late to participate. Just bring a small hand-made item such as a mug rug, pin cushion, needle keeper or similar item to exchange with a fellow quilter! Be creative – and be sure to sign and wrap your item.
- We hope to see you there! Questions should be directed to Peggy Hazell, Hospitality.

A Note from Betty Yates

“A million thank you’s for the comfort quilt that you gave me. It means so much that you care. I’ve taken it with me on my travels to Pennsylvania and Kentucky. It’s a great size to go on trips with.”

--Your quilting friend, Betty Yates
