UFO Challenge

I hope you've chosen the 12 projects you wish to move along this year. Remember that YOU decide what your finishing goal is for each project you list. Choose a goal that could reasonably be completed in a month's time. The number for January was "4". How did you do?

February's number is "2".

Chat with the President

Barb Saporito

At our Jan. Guild meeting, I learned a lot about each and every one of you. It also was very interesting to find out the variety of quilt shops where y'all (southern right?) purchase your material to add to your stash.

I found a shop outside of Charlotte, NC. Sew Much Fun is located in Lowell, NC. I have been there a couple of times and I am in awe of their selections of batiks and grunge material. Another road trip -- about 2+ hours, but worth the trip! Check out their website. They always have something on sale every Thursday. One of the Thursdays that I was there, all floral material was on sale! I did manage to find something to add to my stash. Remember, the one who has the most material, wins!!

See you Feb 10 to learn about the Lydia Project.

Guest Speaker and Teacher Anita Bowen

In April, we will be hosting Anita Bowen for a lecture and a class. Anita is one of our favorite teachers from Quilters of SC, who brings a lot of enthusiasm to her classes. On April 13 at the guild meeting, she will be giving a lecture "Potholes, Roadblocks, and Detours." It will be free for members and we are asking that all visitors pay $5 to help offset the cost.

On Saturday, April 18, Anita will be teaching a 6-hour class titled "Dutch Puzzle" at O'dell Weeks Recreation Dept., classrooms 1-2. Hours are 9:00-4:00 which include set up, instruction, and time for a bag lunch. The cost is $30 per member + a $10 pattern fee. (For non-members, the fee will be $40 + the pattern fee.) Class size is limited to 20 people.

Sign-ups will begin at the February guild meeting. Checks should be made out to Carolina Pine Quilters. The supply list will be available when fees are paid.

Questions? Contact Marolyn Floyd at 803-215-0123.
