Chat with the President

Barb Saporito

Many of us had a very quiet Christmas but still remembered the reason for the season, the birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Church services have been virtual or in locations where social distancing could be observed. I hope that Christmas 2021 will be back to worshipping in our churches.

HOPE. Every Sunday during the month of December, a candle was lit on the Advent wreath. There are 4 candles around the wreath and 1 in the middle of the wreath. The last one lit is called the Christ Candle. The first candle lit was the candle of Hope. How appropriate! We hope that 2021 will bring the vaccine to us all. We all hope that we stay healthy before the vaccine is here. We all hope that we are able to have the CPQ meetings in the very near future. We all hope the speakers for 2021 will be able to attend our meetings.

Despite all the worry and fear that some have regarding the virus, we all have to have Hope that soon we will be getting back to life BTP! (Before The Pandemic)

Have a Blessed New Year.
Till we meet again,

Barb

UFO Challenge — Susan Congdon

How delightful it was to see several completed UFO's on display at the quilt exhibit in November. I'm sure there are many more that were either completed or moved closer to completion this year.

If you worked on your UFO list, please send me an email by January 11 to be entered into a drawing for some special prizes (no, I won't be sending you one of my UFO's!)

I hope 2021 finds us all healthy and happily sewing on projects old and new!

The following is a message from Anne Mixon with Quilts of Valor. (Anne is our scheduled speaker for May.) Several ladies from our guild have helped with this project.

Remember when we covered the Green Hill Baptist Church with Quilts of Valor? We are scheduled to cover the South Carolina State House on January 16, 2021, at 3:00 pm. How proud will you be to cover our State House with the colors of our country? If you would like to help, please contact Anne Mixon at anne.mixon@QOVF.org.
